The "Workshop on psychopharmacological treatment of Tourette Syndrome" will be held at the Schloss Reisensburg, Bürgerm.-Joh.-Müller-Str. 1, 89312 Günzburg.

How to find Schloss Reisensburg

By plane

The nearest international airports are located in Stuttgart, Munich and Frankfurt. At Frankfurt airport there is a train station located directly within the terminal from which one can take a direct train to Ulm (about 2.5 hours). Arriving in Ulm it is necessary to change into a train to Guenzburg (about 15 min).

At Stuttgart and Munich airport, a local train (S-Bahn) brings you to Stuttgart/Munich main station (in the city center), from which you can catch a train to Guenzburg (usually via change of trains in Ulm).

Arriving in Guenzburg we recommend taking a taxi to your final destination “Schloss Reisensburg”. In case there is no taxi in front of the train station, please dial: +49-8221-1414 or +49-8221-1515 for the local taxi companies. The castle is located about 3 km from the train station.

By car

• Leave the Autobahn A8 (coming from Stuttgart or from Munich) at Exit “Günzburg” and follow the signs to “Günzburg”

• Stay on this road (Bundesstrasse B16) for about 3.3 km. At the junction “Günzburg Nord/Bahnhof” make a left-turn

• After about 250 metres turn left again into “Ludwig-Heilmeyer-Straße”, signposted “Reisensburg”.

"Workshop on psychopharmacological treatment of Tourette Syndrome"

The "European Network for the Study of Gilles de la Tourette Syndrome" (COST Action BM0905) in collaboration with the European Society for the Study of TS (ESSTS) and the German Society for the Study of TS (GTS) is pleased to announce a "Workshop on psychopharmacological treatment of Tourette Syndrome".

With Prof. Renata Rizzo from the University of Catania, Italy, Prof. Hugh Rickards from Birmingham, Great Britain and Dr. Irene Neuner from the University of Aachen, Germany we could win some real experts in the field for this workshop. This Workshop will take place in Schloss Reisensburg near Ulm, Germany, August 1-3, 2012, and will be hosted by the University of Ulm. It will emphasize translational aspects i.e. from the laboratory bench to the patient’s bedside. We encourage an intensive interaction between young clinicians, therapists and researchers and the senior scientists through discussion groups.

The schedule is attached.

This workshop is for 20 participants only to ensure an intensive workshop atmosphere! The registration fee is 120 Euros. Admittance will be open to pre-registered participants only. Registration fees will be paid on site (cash or by cheque) and will include training materials, lunch and coffee break. Also the transfer and a guided tour to a pharmaceutical company is included.

Seats are limited! In order to register, please email to stefanie.wolfsteiner@uniklinik-ulm.de

Travel awards will be available by the COST Action BM0905! In order to apply for a travel award, please send your short CV to Prof. Andrea Ludolph by June 15 (andrea.ludolph@uniklinik-ulm.de). Strong preference will be given to Early Stage Clinicians and Researchers.

We are looking forward to seeing you at Schloss Reisensburg near Ulm!
