Program

Friday, 28th of November

Dear colleagues,

Non-Suicidal Self-Injury (NSSI) is a prevalent phenomenon in adolescence. Until recently no epidemiological studies were available from Germany.

This meeting aims to foster cooperation in NSSI research and develop new projects within the Transregio network and other cooperation partners.

Prof. Muehlenkamp, PhD (University of North Dakota) is a leading researcher in the field of NSSI in adolescents and young adults. She published several papers concerning epidemiological findings and the nomenclature of NSSI. We look forward to discussing research from Germany within an international perspective.

This conference is collaboratively held by the Transregiozentrum Kinder- und Jugendpsychiatrie Baden-Württemberg.

Dr. med. Michael Kölch
