

The Journal Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Mental Health (CAPMH)

Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Mental Health (CAPMH) is an open access, online journal. This ensures that all articles published are freely and permanently accessible online immediately upon publication. CAPMH serves as a scientific and open platform for the rapid dissemination of international research results. CAPMH focuses on improving knowledge in the field of diagnosis, prognosis, and treatment of mental disorders in children and adolescents, and aims to integrate basic science, clinical research and the practical implementation of research findings. This offers easy access to research results to scientists worldwide, as well as to the interested public and other professional groups, such as criminologists, social workers or teachers. To ensure a truly cross-cultural exchange of research information, manuscripts from low-income countries are not only specifically taken into account, but also financially supported.

The journal CAPMH was founded on the initiative of Prof. Dr. med. Jörg M. Fegert (head of the Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry/Psychotherapy Ulm), Dr. Benedetto Vitiello (Washington/Turin, former NIMH Bethesda, currently University of Turin) and Prof. Dr. Lutz Goldbeck (Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry/Psychotherapy Ulm). When CAMPH was put into service by the publisher BioMed Central in June 2007, it was the first open access journal in the field of mental health of children and adolescents.

As an innovative project, the journal was funded by the German Research Foundation (DFG) from 2008 to 2013.

In 2016, CAPMH achieved its first Thompson Reuters Impact Factor for the year 2015 (2.134), which is currently at 3.033 (2021).

The Editorial Board

In 2021, Prof. Fegert has stepped back as Editor-in-Chief and remains on the boards as founding editor. Starting November, 2021 Dr. Andreas Witt (Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry/Psychotherapy Ulm) and Dr. Gerrit van Schalkwyk (University of Utah) have taken over as team of Editors-in-Chief. The work is supported by an international group of Senior and Associate Editors as well as two Editorial Managers.

Cooperation Partners

CAMPH is the official journal of the International Association for Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Allied Professions (IACAPAP) (<http://iacapap.org/>). In cooperation with the European Association for Forensic Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, Psychology and other involved Professions (EFCAP) (<http://www.efcap.org/>), forensic topics are regularly highlighted by special thematic series in CAPMH.

For further information on CAMPH and free access to its scientific publications, please visit the journal's website (<https://capmh.biomedcentral.com/>).

If you have any further questions, please contact Dr. Andreas Witt at andreas.witt@uniklinik-ulm.de.